Unifor Local 222 Information Update

As everyone is likely now aware, Loblaw has announced its plans to take over the Ajax warehouse from Logistics In Motion.

No specific date for the takeover has been announced.

This in no way affects our day-to-day work. Loblaw will assume our Unifor collective agreement and our members will continue to be paid by the same payroll process, until further notice.

All aspects of our contract will be honoured. There will likely be some new faces among the members of management as Loblaw takes full control.

As always, communicate with your union reps whenever you have an issue and we will continue to work on our membership's behalf with any new staff from Loblaw.

In Solidarity,
